

I met your mum in Waitrose. "I want to die in a four-poster bed surrounded by my family, but I'll probably die in Waitrose". "Or Pimlico", she added mysteriously. She then roared with laughter and set off looking for all the world as if she intends to live for at least another 20 years