

Tenterhooks!!

I'm hanging by the tender bits. The ROH stuff has arrived and, joy of joy, Parsifal is there. The Under Boss may, or may not, want to sit through five hours of Wagner but the Over Boss most definitely does. I've filled out the form. The execrable apology for a ball point pen I'm using has leaked all over the form. Do they require pristine application forms? I've put every available performance in my alternative list.

Ah, but I am quietly confident because this brill brill brill gift came from the Under Under Boss and she is never refused!!
